Alexandria Gazette

TUESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 5.

The Isle of the Long Ago. Oh! a wonderful stream is the River Time, As it flows through this realm of tears.
With a sutless rhythm and a musical rhyme. And a breader sweep and a surge sublime, As it blends with the ocean of years.

How the Winters are drifting, like flakes of And the bummers like buds between; And the year is the sheaf-so they come and they go On the river's breast, with its ebb and flow, As they glide in the shadow and sheen. There's a magical isle up the River Time,

Where the softest of airs are playing;
There's a cloudless sky and a tropical crime.
And a voice as sweet as a Vesper chime,

And the Junes with the roses are straying. And the name of the isle is the Long Ago, And we bury our treasures there; There are brows of beauty and bosoms of snow, They are heaps of dust, but we love them so! There are trinkets and tresses of hair.

There are fragments of songs that nobody sings And a part of an infant's prayer; There's a barp unwept and a lute without strings;

There are broken vows and pieces of rings, And the garment that she used to wear. Oh, remembered for aye be that blessed isle, All the days of our life till night; And when evening come, with its beautiful smile, And our eyes are c'oring in slumber awhile, May that 'Greenwood' of curs be in sight
